That 30% CutLet's start with the most surface-level complaint: ever since Apple unveiled the App Store in 2008, the company has taken a 30% cut of every app sold and every in-app purchase.. Apple is already facing new regulations in the European Union and increased scrutiny at home (see "A Quick Rundown of Big Tech's Showdown with Congress," 31 July 2020).. We've spent a long time observing and considering these issues, and you may agree or disagree with our evaluation and conclusions.

Feb 09, 2016 Making the Most of the App Store The App Store is the world's safest and most vibrant marketplace, giving you the opportunity to deliver your apps and services across iPhone, iPad, Mac, Apple TV, and Apple Watch in 175 countries and 40 languages.. We merely want to lay out the issues and offer suggestions on how Apple can improve, for the sake of users, developers, and even the long-term viability of the company itself.. Find articles, guidelines, and other resources to help you design incredible apps, reach more users, and grow your business.. Simultaneously, government regulators and media alike have started to focus more attention on the business practices of Apple and other big tech companies.. But after that initial excitement, many smaller developers now find themselves having a hard time making even a modest living in the App Store and feel like they're locked in an abusive relationship with Apple.
